

K-Love is a wonderful service to the community. No one has to worry about if their children should be listening to this music without supervision. All of the music is uplifting, and helps me to get through my day. It reminds me of what I need to concentrate on and how I need to spend my emotional energy. There are too many thousands of people who depend on K-Love as a service to their familys and their day to day lives. K-Love is a christian station, however, I know dad's and mom's who are not christians and would rather their children listen to this music than to what is on other stations. the kids like a specific sound, and K-Love has that sound, but not in a degrading way. Thank you for your time.
